Understanding the 2022 AP World History Exam Format

The 2022 AP World History exam, like previous iterations, tested students' knowledge of world history from approximately 1200 CE to the present. The exam consisted of two sections:

Section I: Multiple Choice (55 questions, 55 minutes): This section assesses your understanding of historical concepts, events, and processes. Questions cover a wide range of topics, demanding both factual recall and analytical skills. Successfully navigating this section requires a strong understanding of the course content and efficient test-taking strategies. Time management is crucial; aim to spend approximately one minute per question.

Section II: Free-Response Questions (3 questions, 100 minutes): This section comprised three essay questions: one Document-Based Question (DBQ), one Long Essay Question (LEQ), and one Short Answer Question (SAQ).

Document-Based Question (DBQ): This question requires you to analyze a set of historical documents to construct an argument responding to a specific prompt. Skill in sourcing, contextualization, and argumentation are vital for success. Practice analyzing various primary sources is essential for mastering the DBQ.

Long Essay Question (LEQ): This question assesses your ability to craft a well-structured essay that demonstrates a thorough understanding of a specific historical period, theme, or event. Strong thesis statements, relevant evidence, and clear analysis are essential.

Short Answer Question (SAQ): The SAQs require concise yet insightful answers demonstrating historical knowledge and analytical skills related to specific events or processes within a period of history.
